Case No. 3:15-cv-00213-MMD-VPC

ORDER REGARDING REPORT AND RECOMMENDATION OF
MAGISTRATE JUDGE
VALERIE P. COOKE

15 I. SUMMARY

16 Before the Court is the Report and Recommendation of United States Magistrate
17 Judge Valerie P. Cooke (ECF No. 33) ("R&R") relating to Defendants' Motion to Dismiss
18 ("Defendants' Motion") (ECF No. 27). The Magistrate Judge recommends that Defendants'
19 Motion be granted and Plaintiff Demetri Alexander's ("Alexander") Amended Complaint
20 (ECF No. 10) be dismissed. Plaintiff has objected to the R&R. (ECF No. 34.) Defendants 21 have responded. (ECF No. 35.) Plaintiff responded to Defendants' response, and the 22 parties then engaged in a flurry of filings about the propriety of Plaintiff's response.¹ (ECF
23 Nos. 36, 37, 38, 39, 40.) For the reasons discussed below, the Court adopts and accepts
24 the R&R in whole and grants Defendants' Motion.

25
26 ¹This exchange led to no less than four additional filings, including the elegantly 27 titled, "Reply to 'Response to 'Defendants' Motion to Strike Plaintiff's Response to 28 Defendants' Objections to the Magistrate Judge's Report and Recommendation." (ECF
No. 39.) The Court agrees that Alexander's response to Defendant's response was improper under LR IB 3-2(a), and even as a pro se litigant Alexander must observe the Court's procedural rules. Therefore, Defendant's Motion to Strike (ECF No. 37) is granted.

1 II. BACKGROUND

2 Alexander is an inmate in the custody of the Nevada Department of Corrections
3 ("NDOC"). He is currently housed at Southern Desert Correctional Center ("SDCC"),
4 though the events that give rise to this suit occurred at Northern Nevada Correctional 5 Center ("NNCC"). Following screening pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 1915A, the Court allowed
6 Alexander to proceed with two claims based on the Americans with Disabilities Act ("ADA")
7 and the Rehabilitation Act ("RA"). (ECF No. 14.)

8 The Magistrate Judge recommends granting Defendants' Motion and dismissing 9 the case in its entirety. (ECF No. 33 at 6.) Specifically, the Magistrate Judge agrees that 10 Defendant NNCC is not a legal entity subject to suit, Alexander's claims for injunctive relief
11 have been rendered moot by his transfer to another facility, and he failed to allege 12 deliberate indifference to support any claim for monetary damages under the ADA. (Id.) In 13 his objection, Alexander argues that he is entitled to compensatory damages under the 14 ADA, and that the Magistrate Judge was incorrect to conclude that his Amended
15 Complaint does not support such a claim. (ECF No. 34.)

16 III. LEGAL STANDARD

17 A. Review of the Magistrate Judge's Recommendations

18 This Court "may accept, reject, or modify, in whole or in part, the findings or 19 recommendations made by the magistrate judge." 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1). Where a party 20 timely objects to a magistrate judge's report and recommendation, then the court is 21 required to "make a de novo determination of those portions of the [report and 22 recommendation] to which objection is made." 28 U.S.C. § 636(b)(1). Where a party fails 23 to object, however, the court is not required to conduct "any review at all . . . of any issue
24 that is not the subject of an objection." Thomas v. Arn, 474 U.S. 140, 149 (1985). Indeed,
25 the Ninth Circuit has recognized that a district court is not required to review a magistrate 26 judge's report and recommendation where no objections have been filed. See United 27 States v. Reyna-Tapia, 328 F.3d 1114 (9th Cir. 2003) (disregarding the standard of review
28 employed by the district court when reviewing a report and recommendation to which no

1 objections were made); see also Schmidt v. Johnstone, 263 F. Supp. 2d 1219, 1226 (D.
2 Ariz. 2003) (reading the Ninth Circuit's decision in Reyna-Tapia as adopting the view that
3 district courts are not required to review "any issue that is not the subject of an objection.").
4 Thus, if there is no objection to a magistrate judge's recommendation, then the court may 5 accept the recommendation without review. See, e.g., Johnstone, 263 F. Supp. 2d at 1226
6 (accepting, without review, a magistrate judge's recommendation to which no objection 7 was filed).

8 B. Motion to Dismiss Standard

9 A court may dismiss a plaintiff's complaint for "failure to state a claim upon which 10 relief can be granted." Fed. R. Civ. P. 12(b)(6). A properly pled complaint must provide "a 11 short and plain statement of the claim showing that the pleader is entitled to relief." Fed.
12 R. Civ. P. 8(a)(2); Bell Atlantic Corp. v. Twombly, 550 U.S. 544, 555 (2007). While Rule 8 13 does not require detailed factual allegations, it demands more than "labels and 14 conclusions" or a "formulaic recitation of the elements of a cause of action." Ashcroft v.
15 Iqbal, 556 US 662, 678 (2009) (citing Papasan v. Allain, 478 U.S. 265, 286 (1986)).
16 "Factual allegations must be enough to rise above the speculative level." Twombly, 550
17 U.S. at 555. Thus, to survive a motion to dismiss, a complaint must contain sufficient
18 factual matter to "state a claim to relief that is plausible on its face." Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 678
19 (internal citation omitted).

20 In Iqbal, the Supreme Court clarified the two-step approach district courts are to 21 apply when considering motions to dismiss. First, a district court must accept as true all 22 well-pled factual allegations in the complaint; however, legal conclusions are not entitled
23 to the assumption of truth. Iqbal, 556 U.S. at 679. Mere recitals of the elements of a cause
24 of action, supported only by conclusory statements, do not suffice. Id. at 678. Second, a 25 district court must consider whether the factual allegations in the complaint allege a
26 plausible claim for relief. Id. at 679. A claim is facially plausible when the plaintiff's 27 complaint alleges facts that allow a court to draw a reasonable inference that the 28 defendant is liable for the alleged misconduct. Id. at 678. Where the complaint does not

1 permit the court to infer more than the mere possibility of misconduct, the complaint has 2 "alleged — but not shown — that the pleader is entitled to relief." Id. at 679 (internal 3 quotation marks omitted). When the claims in a complaint have not crossed the line from 4 conceivable to plausible, the complaint must be dismissed. Twombly, 550 U.S. at 570.

5 A complaint must contain either direct or inferential allegations concerning "all the 6 material elements necessary to sustain recovery under some viable legal theory."
 7 Twombly, 550 U.S. at 562 (quoting Car Carriers, Inc. v. Ford Motor Co., 745 F.2d 1101,
 8 1106 (7th Cir. 1989) (emphasis in original)).

9 Allegations in pro se complaints are held to less stringent standards than formal
 10 pleadings drafted by lawyers, and must be liberally construed. See Hughes v. Rowe, 449
 11 U.S. 5, 9 (1980); Haines v. Kerner, 404 U.S. 519, 520-21 (1972) (per curiam); see also 12 Hamilton v. Brown, 630 F.3d 889, 893 (9th Cir. 2011); Balistreri v. Pacifica Police Dep't,
 13 901 F.2d 696, 699 (9th Cir. 1990). Though pro se pleadings are to be liberally construed,
 14 a plaintiff must still present factual allegations sufficient to state a plausible claim for relief.
 15 Hebbe v. Piller, 627 F.3d 338, 341-42 (9th Cir. 2010).

16 IV. DISCUSSION

17 A. Injunctive Relief

18 On March 23, 2016, Alexander filed a notice indicating that he had been transferred
 19 to SDCC. (ECF No. 19.) The Magistrate Judge concluded that because Alexander's
 20 allegations rested upon conditions specific to NNCC, and because there was no indication
 21 that Alexander expected to return to NNCC, his standing for injunctive relief has vanished
 22 and his claim is moot. Alexander does not specifically object to this conclusion.
 23 Nonetheless, mindful of Alexander's pro se status, the Court has reviewed the Magistrate
 24 Judge's recommendation de novo, and agrees with her conclusion.

25 B. Damages

26 Alexander's main argument seems to be that, even if he is no longer entitled to 27 injunctive relief, his claim survives because the ADA allows for monetary damages. The 28 ///

1 Magistrate Judge concluded that Alexander's allegations amounted to legal conclusions
2 which failed the Twombly and Iqbal standards for plausibility. (ECF No. 33 at 5-6.)

3 Alexander is correct that monetary damages are available under the ADA; however,
4 they are only available in limited circumstances. "To recover monetary damages under 5 Title II of the ADA or the Rehabilitation Act, a plaintiff must prove intentional discrimination
6 on the part of the defendant." Duvall v. Cnty. of Kitsap, 260 F.3d 1124, 1138 (9th Cir.
7 2001).

8 Alexander understandably protests that the Court already found he stated a 9 colorable ADA claim when it screened his Amended Complaint. He is correct in that the 10 Court determined his ADA claim should move forward. (ECF No. 14 at 4-5.) In particular,
11 the Court found:

12 The Supreme Court has held that a prisoner may state an ADA claim based 13 on the "alleged deliberate refusal of prison officials to accommodate [a 14 prisoner's] disability-related needs in such fundamentals as mobility, hygiene, medical care, and virtually all other prison programs." *United States
v. Georgia*, 546 U.S. 151, 157 (2006). [...]

15 Plaintiff alleges he was unable to access the outdoor exercise yard at NNCC
16 because it was not accessible to him, due to his disability of being confined 17 to a wheelchair. He also alleges that NDOC failed to make the necessary 18 accommodations to ensure the safety of wheelchair bound prisoners, as the entrance to the exercise yard was unpaved and slippery. The Court finds that Plaintiff states a colorable ADA claim against NDOC/NNCC.

19 (Id.) However, the screening order evaluated Alexander's ADA claim under the basic 20 framework for an ADA claim. As stated in Armstrong v. Wilson, 124 F.3d 1019, 1023 (9th 21 Cir. 1997), an inmate states a colorable claim under both the ADA and RA if he alleges 22 that he was "improperly excluded from participation in, and denied the benefits of, a prison
23 service, program, or activity on the basis of his physical handicap." The Court did not find 24 that Alexander had pled the elements necessary to establish that his claim fell into the 25 limited category of ADA claims eligible for monetary damages. Part of Alexander's
26 confusion likely stems from the fact that his Amended Complaint attempts to shoehorn a 27 relatively simple tort claim — i.e., that he was injured due to NDOC's negligence — into 28 more complicated constitutional and statutory claims. In this case the statute upon which

1 he relies restricts the availability of monetary damages, and he has not pled facts upon 2 which a juror could conclude that he is entitled to them.

3 As discussed above, Alexander's plausible ADA claim was mooted when the barrier
4 to the exercise yard was removed via his transfer to another facility. And his Amended
5 Complaint, even read liberally to accommodate his pro se status, simply does not allege 6 facts that support a plausible claim for monetary damages under the ADA. Therefore, the 7 Court agrees with the R&R and will dismiss Alexander's sole remaining claim.

8 V. CONCLUSION

9 It is therefore ordered, adjudged and decreed that the Report and Recommendation
10 of Magistrate Judge Valerie P. Cooke (ECF No. 33) is accepted and adopted in full.
11 Defendants' Motion to Dismiss (ECF No. 27) is granted. Plaintiff's Amended Complaint is 12 dismissed.

13 It is further ordered that Defendants' Motion to Strike (ECF No. 37) is granted. The 14 Clerk is directed to strike Plaintiff's response to Defendants' Response to Plaintiff's
15 Objection. (ECF No. 36.)

16 The Clerk is directed to enter judgment in accordance with this Order and close this 17 case.

18 DATED THIS 22nd day of March 2017.
